Emergency Preparedness Fair

The North District recently attended an Emergency Preparedness fair at the Dar El Salam Islamic Center organized by the Muslim Community Center of Human Services.

During the event, there were various booths that addressed fire safety, emergency supply kits, weather and water safety, and epi pen information. All vendors were senior nursing students at TCU. The women wrapped their hair in a hijab scarf out of respect while being in this place of worship.

Children learned the proper way to give CPR and how to call 9-1-1 for help. Then, they enjoyed seeing the inside of a police car and an ambulance.

Thank you Dar El Salam for helping us educate our community!

Town Village Crossing Hosts First Responder Appreciation Event

On February 12 first responders from the West District were invited to the Town Village Crossing Senior Living Center so the residents could show their appreciation for the work being done by those who protect their neighborhood.

When entering the building, officers were met with a loud round of applause from the residents gathered in the lobby. Officers visited with each of the residents and thanked them for their hospitality. A photo station was set up where officers could take pictures with any of the residents who wanted to participate.

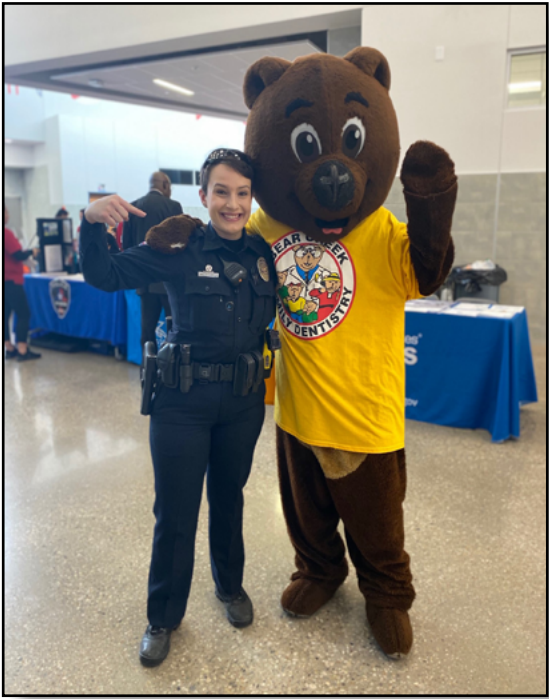

It was a great event where the officers and residents could come together to discuss any issues that were concerning to the residents. Officers were also provided with a wonderful meal they could take with them for their dinner that evening.

Unidos Resource Fair

To build relationships in the community, the Unidos program focuses on our Hispanic community members, providing information and resources to them.

There were several city departments and many vendors offering information, including the Hispanic Real Estate Brokers Association, Bear Creek Family Dentistry, Dispute Resolution Services, Mission Arlington, the YMCA, People Helping People Agency, Baylor Scott & White, and Census 2020.

The Hispanic Police Academy Alumni provided refreshments and face painting for the children. The event was great success and there are plans to make it an annual Unidos event.

Coronavirus

The City of Arlington wants its residents and visitors to know that the Fire Department's Office of Emergency Management are communicating closely with Tarrant County Public Health, the Texas Department of State Health Services, the CDC, the Arlington medical community, and other partners to monitor and stay up-to-date on this evolving situation.
