

A Safe Place

"Bark" a little puppy is all alone on the highway. He really needs a home or a owner. Wait! There's an Animal shelter down the road. So I picked him up and he is saved. But the shelter is all ragged. I think we need a new shelter , but there isn't one in sight. I'm going to get my neighborhood and build a new shelter.

It needs to have a front and back door that is locked so nobody can break in or steal any of the animals. Every kind of animal gets its own little building. There should be guards outside and inside the shelter and they should have different shifts. The shelter should have a clinic for sick animals. The cages that the animals play with big time locks. There should be a coke machine for only 25 cents a can or how ever they want.

There should be a lot of equipment for the animals and the employees. Such as different kinds of food for different kinds of animals. Lots of toys chewable , squeaky kinds, and balls for the dogs. There can be toys for every single kind of animal, from little kittens to huge pythons. There should be medicine for any sick animals. There should be lots of bath tubs for cleaning and grooming the animals. There should be a dental service for animals with bad breath and teeth that are in bad shape.

For services, how about providing a sign up sheet for volunteers. You could also provide rabies shots for the animals. Another good idea is to have services to spay and neuter the animals so they can't have unwanted babies.

This is a very important job. It takes a lot of responsibility and caring to treat all the animals the same. You need to make sure every animal gets an owner, or at least try. This job helps our city.

Now after all that, almost all animals have a home and are safe at their new house or the shelter. Ruff, ruff! This new puppy now has a new home with me!!!!!!
