Animal Shelters in 2060

Animal shelters today are great but by 2060, I believe there will be many improvements that will help the animals as well as the community.

First of all, The Pawomatic is a great way to not only stay on top of the animals eating arid drinking habits but also to assist the animal shelters with the ability to prioritize their time with other responsibilities. The Pawomatic is a scale on the bottom of any water or food bowl. After the desired amount is programmed into the Pawomatic, this scale reads how much food or water is in the bowl continuously. The Pawomatic is designed to judge how much food or water is in a bowl. This can help animal shelters tremendously. This will cut down on time checking each individual animal, say the eating and drinking habits of each animal, or lack thereof.

Next, The Pupcam is a great way for future animal parents to get to know their pet. This device allows the person to not only observe the animal but also interact with them. They can issue a treat, speak to them, and play approved music for the animal. Many people who want to adopt pets do not have time to go and sit with an animal or some people want to fin just the right pet. The Pupcam can assist with this.

Finally, The Animal Scanner. The Animal Scanner is a QR code that is on the ID tag of the animal in the shelter. The Animal Scanner, will show all the information about their future pet. Once the animal is chosen for potential adoption the QR code is available to the possible parent online, on the Pupcam of their animal, and on the Shelters app. Allowing the parent to know the specific needs of their new four-legged friend, gives them all the information that they need to take care of them. Many people who go to Shelters pick an animal because it is cute. They don't really know anything about the animal. Knowing the specific needs, and behaviors about the animal you are adopting is important.

As you can see, The Pawomatic, Pupcam, and Animal Scanner are all great products that can assist with the crisis in animal shelters and the adoption process. Having technology like the Pawomatic to measure food and water intake assists with maintaining resources and the animals health. Using the Pupcam allows for future adoptive parents to interact and find the right pet. Making sure are happy and satisfied with their choice, limiting the chance the animal will end back up in a shelter. And finally, the Animal Scanner. Having the ability to know all of pets behavior's, needs, gives you the information needed to take care of your pet the way they deserve.
